

How the third sector can help reshape services

Constance Adams & Gareth Coles – WCVA

The importance of co-production

New service delivery models

The involvement of the third sector

Putting People at the Centre

The way forward for public service partners in Wales:

Engagement

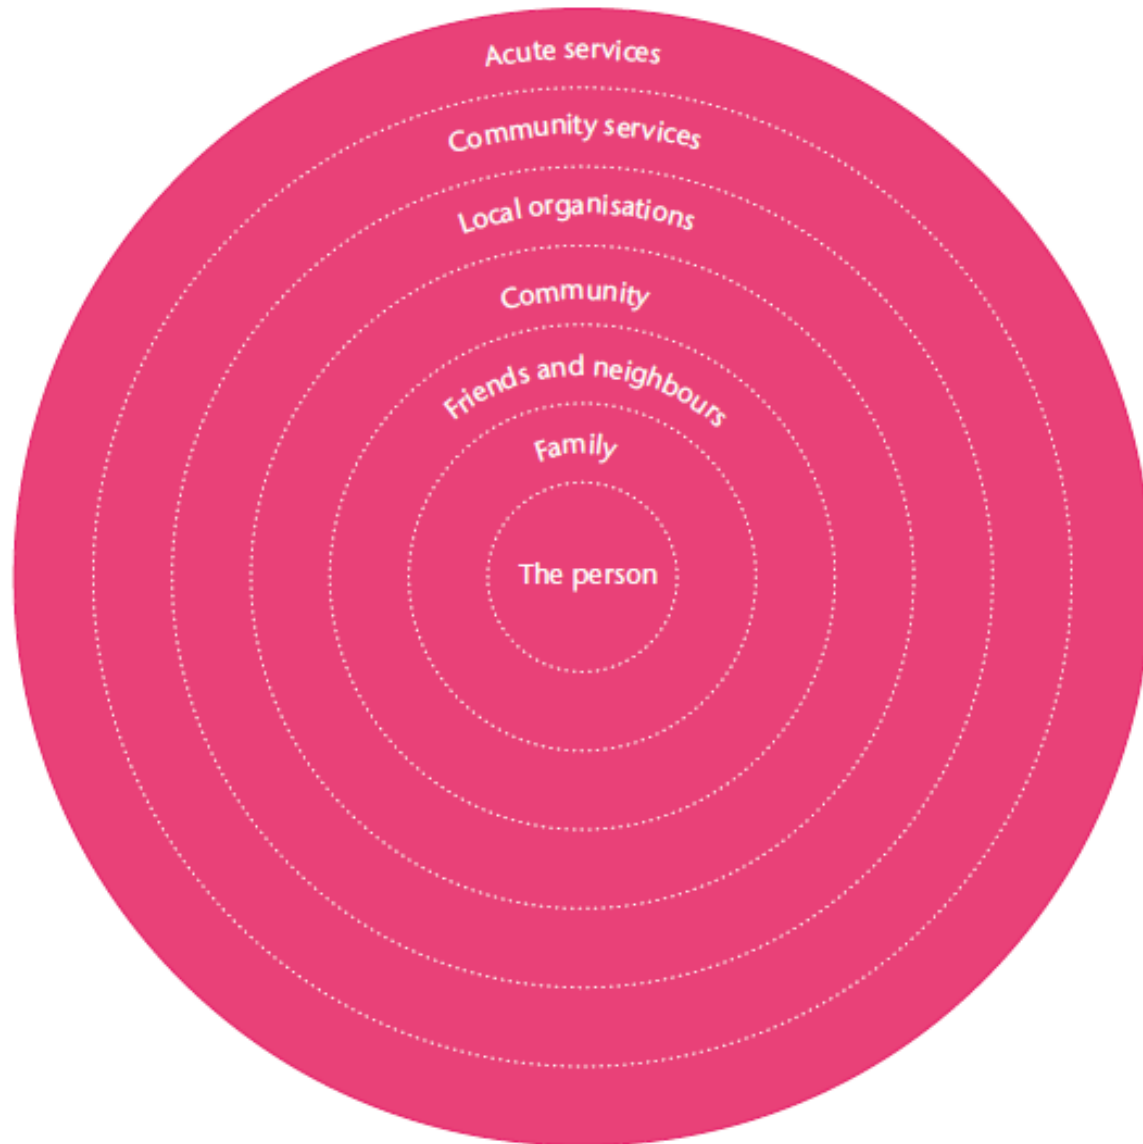

Prevention and early intervention

Seeking alternative models

Scrutiny

Putting People at the Centre

Opportunities

Engagement with communities and third sector

Asset mapping, transfer strategy and working group

Investing in brokers / intermediaries

Link into strategic funding to maximise outcomes

Local community fund

Intelligent commissioning

Prevention / early intervention

Scrutiny

Examples

Active and involved citizens

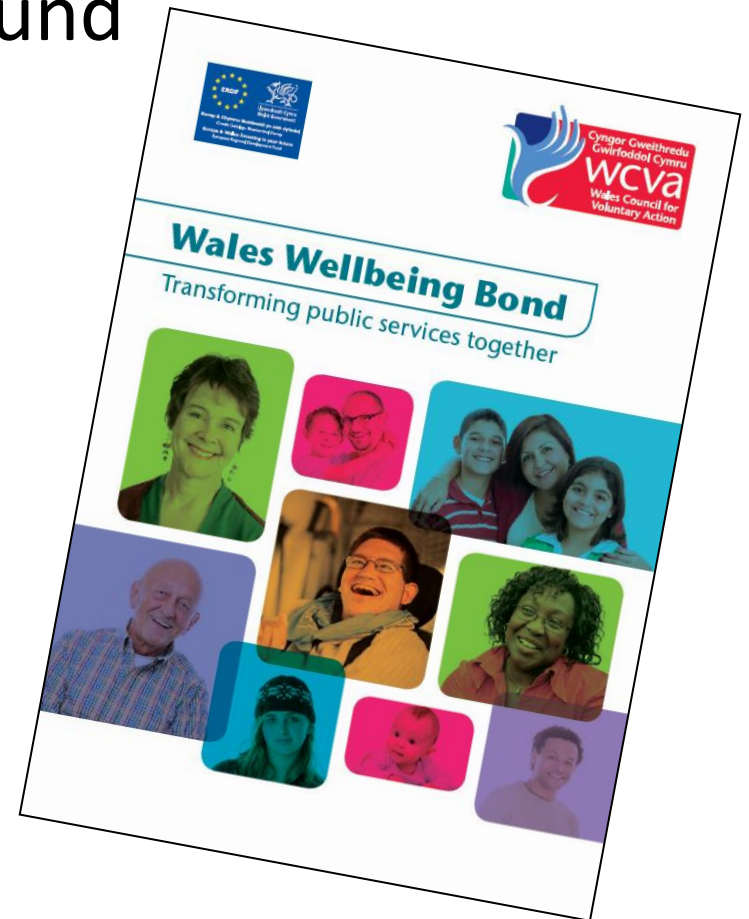

Maximising local assets

Smarter working

| Deficit commissioning      | Asset-based commissioning                 |
|-----------------------------------|--|
| ‘Fix’ people               | Develop potential                         |
| Focus on individuals       | Focus on communities /neighbourhoods |
| People are passive clients | People are citizens andcontributors  |
| Maintenance                | Development                               |
| Respond to problems        | Focus on opportunities                    |
| Procured services          | Grants, loans, investment etc.            |

Wales Wellbeing Bond

- Loan finance from Communities Investment Fund
- Preventative, community-based programmes
- Improving wellbeing and creating savings
- Invest to save

Wales Wellbeing Bond

Identify new services that lead to bankable savings

Partners agree a service with measurable outcomes

Initial loan finance provided by WCVA

Loan finance pays for development and delivery

Risk is shared between the partners

If successful, repaid money is reinvested

Key points

A put people at the centre

B embrace new ways

C we need all the elements to succeed

Thank you

Constance Adams

Gareth Coles

0800 2888 329

cadams@wcva.org.uk

gcoles@wcva.org.uk