

TO A YELLOWHAMMER

Dear friend, you live within each moment,
You build your nest, you sing.
Ever one with the world and seasons,
You're now the joy of spring.

But there are men who live for banknotes
With plans for you today.
What right have they or politicians
To take your home away?

please see photo attachment. So many other beautiful birds, animals, pollinators without a voice in this decision.

John Davies.
