 - (a) increasing the abundance of native species;
 - (b) enhancing the resilience of ecosystems (in particular the aspects specified in section 6(2)(a) to (e));
 - (c) increasing genetic diversity.
- (3) In considering whether a target would contribute to the matters specified in subsection (2)(a), (b) or (c), the Welsh Ministers must have regard to the list published under section 7.
- (4) The regulations must, in relation to each target –
 - (a) specify a standard to be achieved, which must be capable of being objectively measured, and
 - (b) specify a date by which the standard is to be achieved.

 - (a) because of changes to the evidence to which they had regard when setting the existing target, meeting it would not contribute to halting and reversing the decline in biodiversity or to restoring biodiversity to resilient levels,
 - (b) meeting the existing target would have no significant benefit compared with not meeting it or with meeting a lower target,
 - (c) because of changes in circumstances since the existing target was set, the environmental, social, economic or other costs of meeting it would be disproportionate to the benefits, or
 - (d) meeting the existing target is no longer achievable—
