ASH TREES IN THE VALE OF GLAMORGAN

With consideration of the very high number of ash trees on Vale of Glamorgan Council land, particularly along the route of highways, what contingency plans does the Vale of Glamorgan Council have in place to deal with the onset of ash die back disease which is likely to kill the majority of those trees over the next three years. Risk to people and property from branch drop, cost of felling affected trees and the cost of replacement are all issues.
