EQUALITY IMPACT ASSESSMENT FOR THE LOCAL HOUSING STRATEGY

At a meeting of the Planning Committee, I questioned whether the Vale Council had discharged its Public Sector Equality Duty on an application for affordable housing – specifically in relation to the incorporation of a shared surface. Some concern had been raised in the Health Impact Assessment for the site that stated the “impact can be mitigated by ensuring that contrasting colours are added to the surface to indicate where it is safe for pedestrians” although there is no evidence of this in the final plans. The Planning Committee was told that the Equality Impact Assessment (EIA) for the Local Housing Strategy covered this design detail. Following the meeting I asked to see the EIA, only to discover that the two officers responsible for the EIA had left the employment of the Council and that the EIA had been lost. Given there is now no EIA for the Local Housing Strategy, how can the Vale Council contend that it has discharged its Public Sector Equality Duty in its decision-making on housing development?

REPLACEMENT PRIMARY SCHOOL IN ST. NICHOLAS

In 2020, the Vale Council prescribed a replacement primary school for St Nicholas that doubled the size of the school and imposed a one-way system, impassable for larger and agricultural vehicles, on the historic village centre. Residents were frustrated that their responses and input of local knowledge to the various planning documents didn't result in any noticeable considerations or changes – resulting in the Community Council making futile formal complaint of a lack of engagement and invitation to representatives of the Vale Council to attend meetings of the Community Council. The most glaring errors in the proposal resulted in the Planning Committee refusing planning permission – the subsequent planning application removed only the most glaring errors to the disappointment of neighbouring residents. If any lessons were learned from this failed planning application, what were they and when might they be implemented?

MAINTENANCE OF HIGHWAY GULLIES

There are about 24,000 gullies in the Vale of Glamorgan with only two gully tankers to carry out basic maintenance work (cleaning). Residents are concerned by the number of gullies that are silted and not functioning properly, potentially affecting road safety and exposing neighbouring properties to flood. Is there sufficient support infrastructure and are just two gully tankers sufficient, to properly maintain the highway gullies?

REMOVAL OF HEALTHY MATURE TREES

Many recently planted trees have died due to the periods of heat and lack of rain we have experienced these last two summers – with more extreme weather forecast for coming years. New trees require expensive care to survive dry summer weather for at least three years – hence trees have died throughout the Vale, particularly on new developments and in the grounds of new 21st Century Schools. Mature trees with their deep roots are now more valuable than ever as they can better withstand these weather conditions. Are there any circumstances when healthy, mature trees should be removed if they pose no threat to buildings, the highway or the health and wellbeing of people?

CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

An emergency is a crisis requiring immediate action. This year the world has experienced yet more extreme weather events linked to climate change caused by human activities. Significant changes of approach, practises and project delivery are not evident although there are positive words of intent in various reports. When will we see construction projects delivered that minimise material use, and embodied carbon rather than the can being kicked up the road?

OPPOSING ENVIRONMENTALLY HARMFUL PROJECTS OF NEIGHBOURING AUTHORITIES

Cardiff Council are proposing the demolition of County Hall and moving to a shiny new building despite the environmental crisis (including excessive use of scarce materials) that we all face and the need to reuse and repurpose the buildings we already have. Ignoring embodied carbon in buildings and downcycling building materials is unsustainable. As part of the Cardiff Capital Region, will the Vale of Glamorgan Council oppose the environmentally harmful vanity projects of neighbouring Authorities?

SOLAR PARK PROPOSALS FOR THE VALE OF GLAMORGAN

There was a backlash to biofuel production when it was realised that growing fuel in place of food would reduce food security and increase food prices. Now we are inundated with profit hungry companies seeking to exploit the power lines that served the Aberthaw power station – with minimal interest in food security and heritage preservation. Installation of panels compacts soil, channels rainwater and shades the ground beneath the panels and there is no certainty that the private companies installing solar parks will be any more long-term financially responsible than the likes of Thames Water. What are the concerns of the Cabinet on the nationally significant solar park proposals for the Vale of Glamorgan?

AND REGULATORY SERVICES

COLLECTION OF GREEN WASTE FOR DISABLED PEOPLE

Disabled people are often some of the most vulnerable members of society, and least able to access services provided by the Vale of Glamorgan. Also the Equality Act 2010 states:

1 (1) An authority to which this section applies must, when making decisions of a strategic nature about how to exercise its functions, have due regard to the desirability of exercising them in a way that is designed to reduce the inequalities of outcome which result from socio-economic disadvantage.

29 (1) A person (a “service-provider”) concerned with the provision of a service to the public or a section of the public (for payment or not) must not discriminate against a person requiring the service by not providing the person with the service.

29 (4) A service-provider must not victimise a person requiring the service by not providing the person with the service.

Given that the Council has removed the collection of green waste and some disabled people will be unable to access the disposal service provided at the recycling centres, what provisions have been put in place to mitigate any hardship caused?
