

THE VALE OF GLAMORGAN COUNCIL

HOMES AND SAFE COMMUNITIES SCRUTINY COMMITTEE: 9TH JANUARY, 2019

REFERENCE FROM CABINET: 17TH DECEMBER, 2018

“C520 VALE OF GLAMORGAN COUNCIL HOMELESSNESS PREVENTION STRATEGY 2018-2022 (HBS) (SCRUTINY - HOMES AND SAFE COMMUNITIES) -

The Housing (Wales) Act 2014 Act statutorily requires local authorities to undertake a Homelessness Review and to produce a Homelessness Strategy setting out how the Vale of Glamorgan Council, in partnership with other stakeholders, would identify and develop the services required to help and support those persons in housing need.

A draft Homelessness Prevention Strategy had now been developed in consultation with partners setting out the steps and activities that would be undertaken by the Council and partners to deliver the required strategic outcomes for clients who were homeless or threatened with homelessness.

The Cabinet Member for Housing and building services stated that the implementation of a Homelessness Prevention Strategy would ensure there was an effective homelessness service in place in the Vale of Glamorgan, which promoted community sustainability and supported the most vulnerable and socially isolated residents.

The development of effective homelessness services across the Vale of Glamorgan would positively impact on the lives of those threatened with homelessness, and help to protect the most vulnerable from crime.

The Draft Strategy would require further statutory consultation with key stakeholders and partner agencies prior to resubmission to Cabinet for formal adoption.

This was a matter for Executive decision.

1. Forward by Councillor Andrew Parker – Cabinet Member for Housing and Building Services

Homelessness remains a key priority and the Council is committed to early intervention and prevention of homelessness wherever possible; in partnership with our statutory and non-statutory partners. This strategy and supporting action plan sets out the practical ways the Council will achieve this, including underlining the Council's corporate commitment to not use bed and breakfast accommodation unless in an emergency and in any event for no longer than six weeks.

I am therefore proud to present this Homelessness Prevention Strategy which will be a key tool in helping the Council to deliver the Council's Housing Strategy 2015-2020 which sets out the long term strategic vision for housing in the Vale that:

“All residents in the Vale of Glamorgan have access to good quality, suitable housing and are able to live happily and independently in vibrant, sustainable communities.”

The Vale of Glamorgan is a wonderful place to live, with over 80% of the area being rural but it has a very diverse population. Whilst many areas are very affluent, there four areas located within the top 10% of the Welsh Index of Multiple Deprivation 2014, all of which are in Barry where the majority of housing solutions tend to exist. Although Barry has a buoyant private rented sector, rents are also increasing and are often out of reach of those on low income. Therefore affordability remains a challenge in all areas of the Vale of Glamorgan

Vulnerable and disadvantaged households are particularly at risk of homelessness, and meeting their needs is a particular focus for this Strategy. The Council recognises that it needs to offer a range of housing options for people, including support to prevent homelessness and to maintain a home and is committed to working closely with a wide range of partner agencies to deliver the services needed through a clear single point of access to services in order to ensure that we make efficient use of the resources available..

Finally, the Council understands the need for continuous improvement in front line housing services and we are delighted to have been the first authority in the country to undertake a peer review which we will continue to develop in line with the new Welsh Government service standards.

Councillor Andrew Parker

Cabinet Member for Housing & Building Services

2. Introduction

The Housing (Wales) Act 2014 came into force on 27th April 2015. The Act replaced The Housing Act 1996 and is the first Housing Act to be introduced by Welsh Government. The Act puts a duty on local authorities to provide assistance to everyone who is threatened with homelessness regardless of whether they fall into a priority need category or have a local connection to the authority. It also places greater emphasis on prevention and early intervention by placing a duty on local authorities to work with people who are at risk of losing their home within 56 days to help find a solution to their problems. Other important changes introduced in the Act include the ability for Local Authorities to discharge their duties into the Private Rented Sector and the removal of the automatic priority previously given to prison leavers.

In addition, the Housing (Wales) Act 2014 sets out the need for all local authorities to publish a new Homelessness Strategy, including a review of the services available and an action plan for the next four years, which is co-produced by other professionals working in the sector and people who have accessed the homelessness service.

The focus on early intervention is also intrinsic within Welsh Government's Ten Year Homelessness Plan 2009-2019. It places an emphasis on preventing homelessness wherever possible; working across organisational and policy boundaries; placing the service user at the centre of service delivery; ensuring social inclusion and equality of access to services and making the best use of the resources available

The Vale of Glamorgan Housing Solutions Team has completed a full review of the services available to people who are facing homelessness and undertaken extensive consultation with the people who have accessed the service in addition to all other stakeholders. This information has been used to inform the development of a robust Homelessness Prevention Strategy that will assist the Council to meet the increasing demands on the Service and to provide the required outcomes for clients.

3. Background Information

This is the Vale of Glamorgan's first Homelessness Strategy since the introduction of the Housing (Wales) Act 2014 and it comes at a time of considerable change. Whilst Welsh Government considers changes to the funding streams that support homeless clients and Universal Credit is rolled out in the area, there is increased pressure on housing services.

Following the exit from the Housing Revenue Account Subsidy arrangements however, the Council has an exciting opportunity for the first time in many years to build council housing in order to contribute to meeting the increasing need for affordable housing. In addition, following a peer review exercise of our Housing Solutions Service, we have pledged to continually improve our front line services to meet the highest standards in conjunction with Welsh Government's proposed new service governance arrangements.

The Vale's vision of housing is based on four key aims. These are:

- To provide more homes and more choice; ensuring that all residents have access to suitable and affordable accommodation.
- To improve homes and communities; by ensuring housing is maintained and fit for purpose.
- Increasing the supply of good quality, energy efficient homes in vibrant and sustainable communities.
- To provide better housing advice and support; ensuring that residents have access to the housing and services they need to live independently and plan their housing futures.
- To promote equality of access to housing and housing services.

We are also very proud to report that, due to the Council's corporate commitment and the introduction of a proactive front line prevention service, bed and breakfast accommodation has not been used in the last three years (with the exception of emergency use). This is a significant achievement given that nationally there is still a reliance on this form of accommodation. It has not only improved the quality of life of our homeless households; it has also reduced the cost to the public purse and allowed the service to redirect resources to achieve better outcomes for service users.

We recognise the benefits of working in partnership and have accordingly strengthened our links with other organisations and landlords that can help us to deliver sustainable housing solutions. We know that as a local housing authority we cannot tackle homelessness in isolation and we will continue to build a strong network of partnerships and services that can be monitored and supported through the Homelessness Prevention Strategy's action plan. Service Level Agreements and the required information Sharing Protocols and procedures will be put in place to take these forward.

Going forward many of the challenges and issues facing The Housing Solutions Service remains outside the direct control of the Council but this Strategy will build on our partnership working achievements to help deliver solutions.

Geography/ local economy/ demographics

The Vale of Glamorgan covers an area of 33,097 hectares of which 85% is rural. It is a county of great contrasts, with both urban and rural areas and communities that range from considerably affluent to some of the most deprived in Wales. The main population centers are Barry, Cowbridge, Llantwit Major and Penarth; along with a number of smaller and minor rural settlements.

The total population of the Vale of Glamorgan at the time of the 2011 Census was 126,336; an increase of 5.9% compared to the previous Census ten years prior. The majority of the population is of working age. When compared to Wales as a whole, the Census indicates that the Vale of Glamorgan contains a lower proportion of the population that are of working age than is found nationally and regionally; 62.9% in the Vale of Glamorgan compared to 63.5% across Wales. The Vale also has a higher proportion of children than is found nationally; 18.9% in the Vale of Glamorgan compared to 18.2% across Wales. The percentage of the population of people aged 65 and over is representative of Wales as a whole. The Vale has an unemployment rate of 8.75%, while 4.8% of the Vale's residents are economically inactive due to long term sickness or disability.

Local Housing Market

At the time of the 2011 Census the Vale had an estimated 53,505 dwellings. The majority of households in the Vale, 72%, owned their own home; this is higher than the Welsh average. This was followed by 16% of households who rent from a private landlord, either from a landlord or letting agent. The smallest tenure in the Vale of Glamorgan in 2011 was the social rented sector, 12% of households rent from a social landlord, either the Council or one of the four registered social landlords operating in the county.

Whilst home ownership has remained the most prevalent tenure in the Vale and the number of households who own their home has grown over the last 30 years, the percentage of owner occupiers actually fell from 78% in 2001 to 72% in 2011. The percentage of household renting privately in the Vale has however risen over the last 20 years; from 9% of households in 1991 to 16% in 2011. Whilst the percentage increase may not appear too significant, the actual number of households renting privately has more than doubled, from 4,033 households in 1991 to 8,379 in 2011.

Over the same 20-30 year period of time the percentage of households living in the social rented sector has declined, from 24% in 1981 to 12% in 2011. Social renting is the only tenure in the Vale of Glamorgan where the number of households has declined, from over 9,000 households in 1981 to under 6,500 in 2011, a decline of over 30%. The 2011 Census showed that for the first time in 30 years the private rented sector had grown larger than the social rented sector in the Vale of Glamorgan.

Increasingly therefore there is a growing dependence upon the private rented sector and the Council is committed to further developing its relationship with private landlords, which is reflected in the Action Plan that accompanies this Strategy.

Average property prices in the area are in excess of £207,000 however; there are a number of distinct housing markets within the Vale of Glamorgan, in particular geographically; there are distinct price differences between the major towns and rural areas. The towns of St Athan and Barry have the lowest average property values; £135,000 and £144,000 respectively. These are urban settlements, located in the south of the county. Barry is the largest town in Wales and has good rail links to both Cardiff and Bridgend.

Penarth and Llandough have noticeably higher property values with an average property costing £245,000. The high values in this area are unsurprising given the close proximity to Cardiff and good transport links into the city. The highest property prices in the Vale are however found in the rural areas, particularly those in the north and west of the county; Llandow/Ewenny has the highest average property price of over £363,000. These high prices reflect the desirable nature of the rural Vale as aspirational areas to live. They are characterised as low density settlements in and around market towns, villages and hamlets. These areas, although rural, have good transport links onto the A48 and M4 providing easy access to areas within and around the Vale.

The 2014 CACI Paycheck data tells us that the mean household income band in the Vale of Glamorgan is £35,000-£40,000, whereas the median is £25,000-£30,000. The former is 'susceptible to small numbers of very high earners', whereas the latter measures 'the amount earned by the typical individual within a domain' without being skewed by extremities. The median figure is thus a more appropriate measure of income levels when looking at housing affordability, although this obviously varies considerably across the locality.

Barry has the highest proportion of households earning less than £10,000; attributable to 15% of the households living in this area. This is followed by Penarth and Llandough and St Athan which have 11% of households earning less than £10,000. As may be expected, Barry and St Athan also have the smallest proportions of households earning £80,000 and over in this area, attributable to 5% and 6% of households respectively. However Penarth and Llandough do not follow this trend, with 10% of households earning £80,000 and over. The majority of households in Barry, Penarth and Llandough, St Athan, Llantwit Major and Dinas Powys earn £10,000-£20,000; whereas most households in Cowbridge, Llandow/Ewenny, Peterston-Super-Ely, Rhoose, St Brides Major, Sully and Wenvoe earn £40,000-£60,000.

Between 30% and 45% of households do not have the means to rent a two bedroom property on the open market. This figure rises to 68% for newly formed households. There is high competition for rented accommodation between professional people and other local households who cannot access social rented housing. Many households therefore find themselves unable to compete effectively in the market place for private rented accommodation without some form of assistance. The current programme of welfare reform creates further uncertainty over how a number of those facing homelessness might achieve a housing solution which is affordable to them. Similarly, we are facing growing concerns over levels of fuel poverty, which in turn can impact significantly upon housing affordability. There are 3882 housing applicants on the Vale of Glamorgan Housing Register seeking affordable rented accommodation. Of those, approximately 70% of households have no earned income. Of the 30% of applicants in paid employment the majority of households (29%) earn between £100 and £199 per week. Increasing the supply of affordable rented housing, both social and intermediate therefore remains a high priority for the Council.

4. Homelessness Position since the introduction of the Housing (Wales) Act 2014

The Housing Wales Act 2014 is the biggest change to tackling homelessness in Wales since the first Homeless Person's Act commenced in 1977. Its aim was to transform homelessness by creating a modern safety net where no one is turned away without help.

The Act has introduced a number of new duties to support the prevention activity. These have been explained below:

Section 66 – Duty to help to prevent an applicant from becoming homeless

(1) A local housing authority must help to secure that suitable accommodation does not cease to be available for occupation by an applicant if it is satisfied that the applicant is a) threatened with homelessness, and b) eligible for help.

Section 73 - Duty to help to secure accommodation for homeless applicants

(1) A local housing authority must help to secure that suitable accommodation is available for occupation by an applicant, if the authority is satisfied that the applicant is

(a) homeless, and (b) eligible for help.

(2) But the duty in subsection (1) does not apply if the authority refers the application to another local housing authority

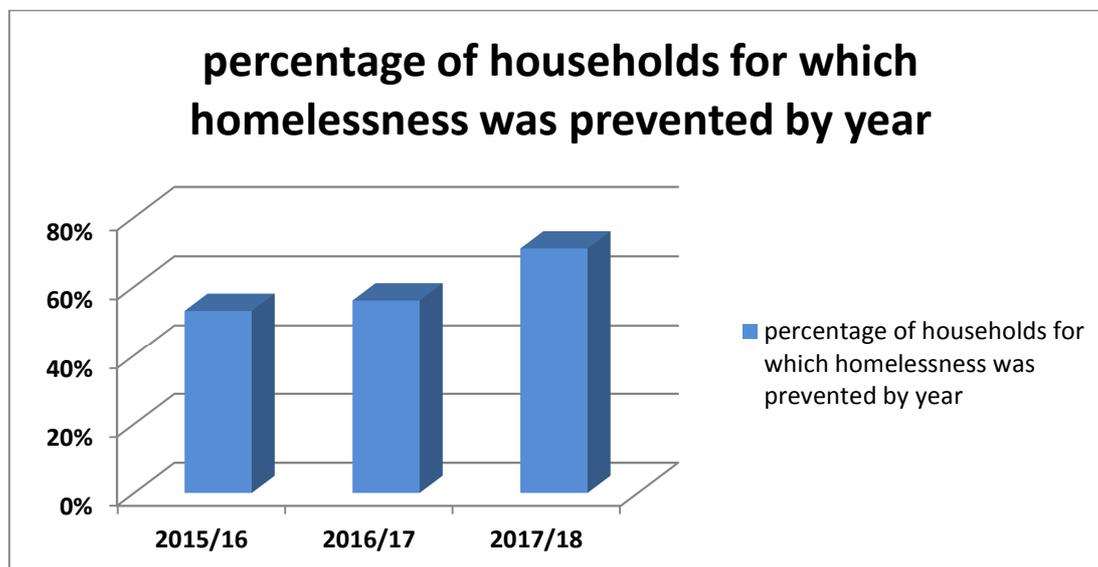

Section 75 - Duty to secure accommodation for applicants in priority need when the duty in section 73 ends

(1) When the duty in section 73 (duty to help secure suitable accommodation for a homeless applicant) comes to an end in respect of an applicant in the circumstances mentioned in subsection (2) or (3) of section 74, the local housing authority must secure that suitable accommodation is available for occupation by the applicant if subsection (2) or (3) (of this section) applies.

Much has been achieved since the introduction of the Housing (Wales) Act 2014 on the 27th April 2015. In the last three years we have seen a reduction in homelessness acceptances and an increase in homelessness prevention as evidenced in the graph below:

Graph 1 – Percentage of households for which homelessness was prevented by year

However it should be noted that it is difficult to compare this Strategy with previous Homelessness Strategies due to the different legislative frameworks in place at the time.

Key issues:

- There were 111 households living in temporary accommodation between April 2018 and June 2018, 33 of whom were families with children.
- There have been no families placed in Bed and Breakfast Accommodation since prior to the commencement of the new Act. In April 2015.
- In 2017/18 the Housing Solutions Team accepted a Section 75 duty (households are awarded section 75 duty in accordance with the Housing (Wales) Act 2014 when deemed to be eligible, in priority need, homeless, unintentionally homeless, have a local connection and when all other prevention opportunities have been unsuccessful. This would have been regarded as a section 193 duty under the Housing Act 1996) to 120 households, of which 96 were resolved positively.
- The Housing Solutions Team prevented 252 households from becoming homeless since April 2015
- There were no rough sleepers recorded over the same period

- The average stay in temporary accommodation has increased to 25 weeks over the past 12 months and is continuing to increase. This figure is exasperated by the lack of single person move on accommodation in the Vale.
- No families were found to be intentionally homeless since the introduction of the Housing (Wales) Act in April 2015
- The main causes of homelessness over the same period were loss of private rented accommodation, relationship breakdown, evicted by family and people leaving prison as demonstrated in the chart below:

The following graph shows the reasons for homelessness across the Vale assessed under Section 66 of the Act. The second graph shows the reasons for homelessness assessed under Section 73 of the Act.

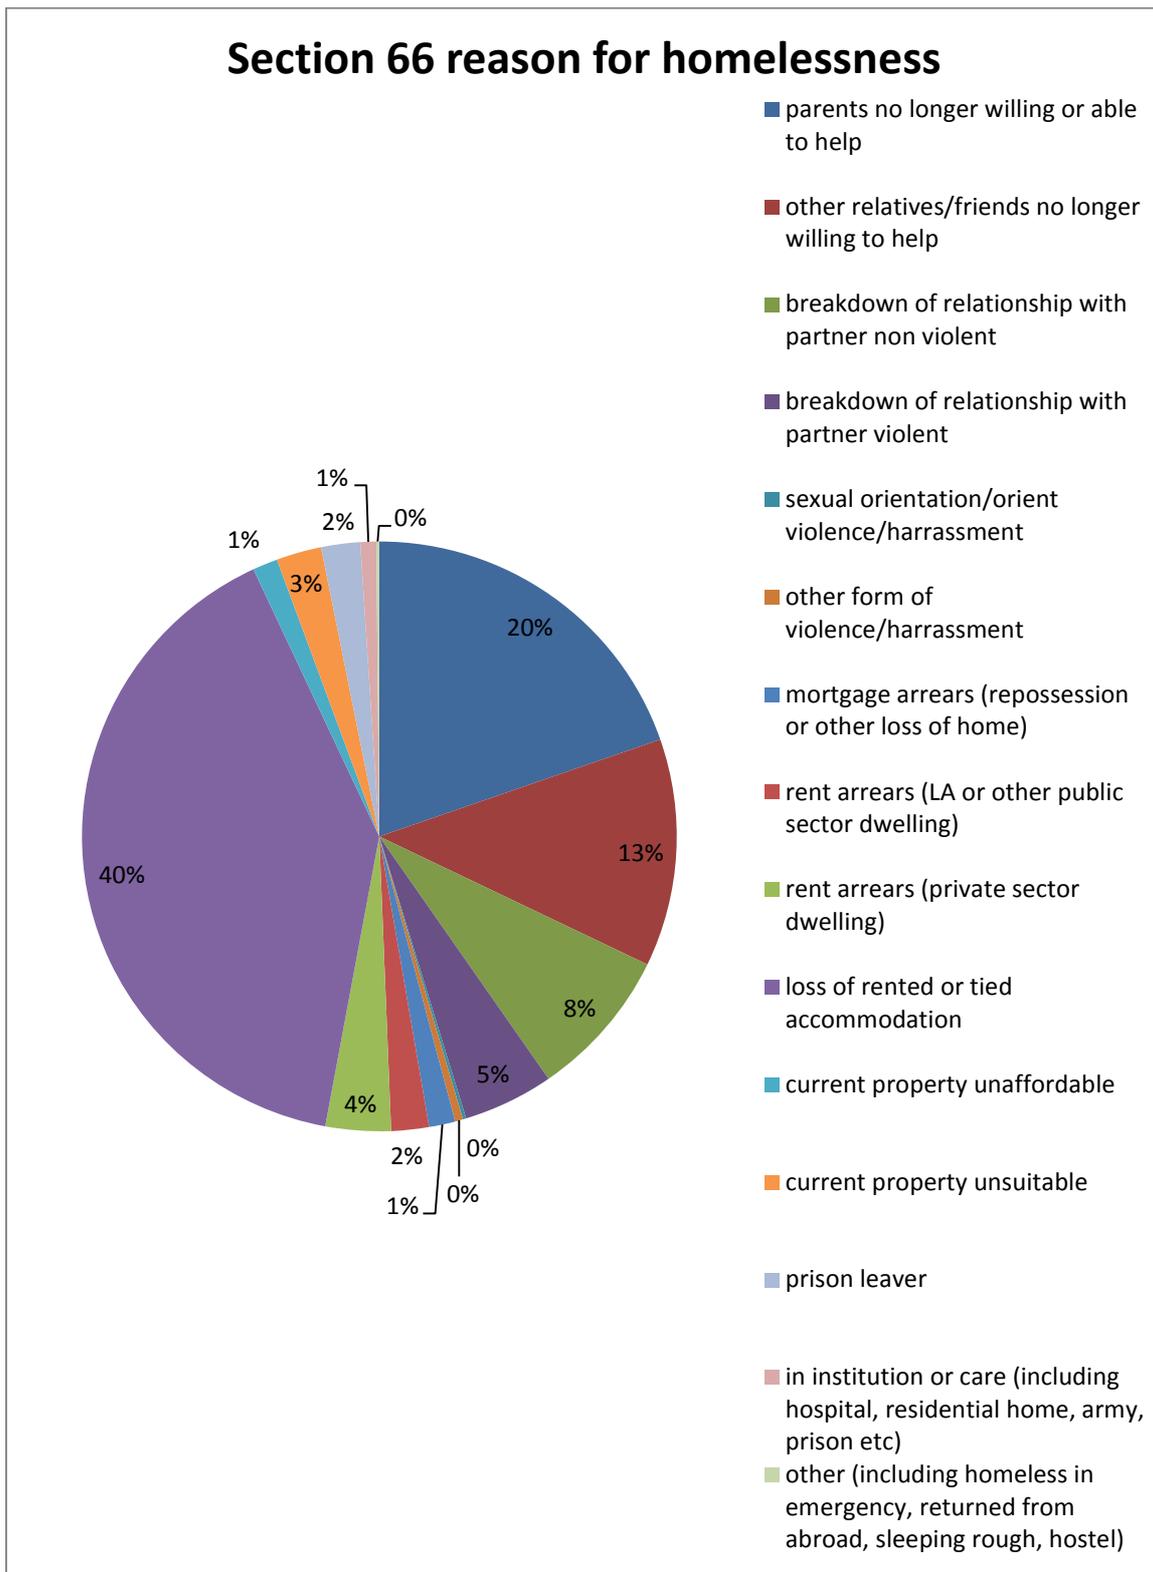

The main reason for homelessness presentations under Section 66 of the Act and Section 73 of the Act vary considerably. Under Section 66 the main reason for homeless presentations The main cause of homelessness in the Vale of Glamorgan is “loss of rented or tied accommodation”, with 40% of applicants presenting under Section 66 falling into this category and only 25% of applicants falling into this category under Section 73. The difference in this figure can be attributed to the successful prevention work undertaken by the Housing Solutions Team as part of their duties under Section 66 of the Act alleviating homelessness at this early stage.

Conversely the number of prisoners presenting under Section 73 of the Act is 17% higher than those presenting under Section 66 of the Act. This is due to the fact that the majority of prisoners will be placed immediately under Section 73 as there is no dwelling from which the Housing Solutions Team can attempt to prevent the applicant becoming homeless.

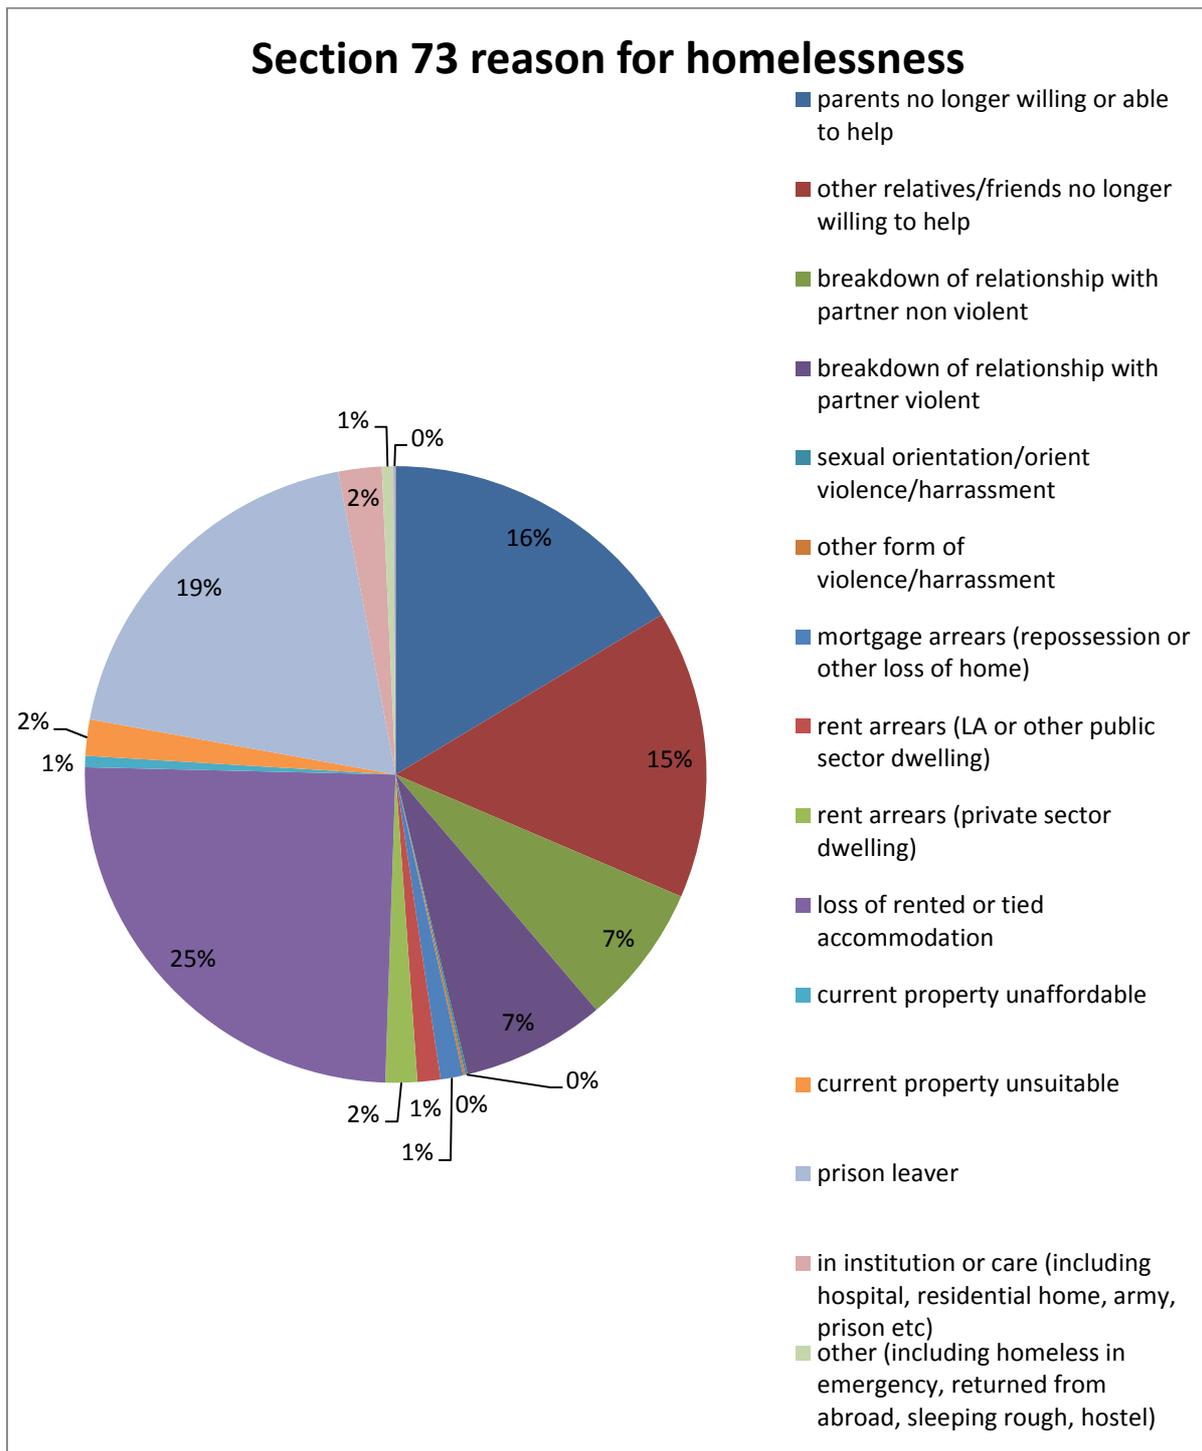

For all other categories the numbers presenting under Section 66 and Section 73 of the Act remain reasonably consistent. However, it should be noted that the total number of presentations under Section 73 is considerably lower than those under Section 66, with 1179 households presenting under Section 66 and 859 presenting under Section 73 during the same period. This is a reflection of the preventative work that is now embedded in the service that has stopped a number of households escalating to a section 73 status.

Historically rough sleeping across the Vale has not presented a challenge to homelessness services. The annual rough sleeper count has indicated that there are no people sleeping rough in the Vale of Glamorgan. However it is important to note that rough sleeper counts only provide a snapshot of the situation and do not always reveal the true extent of rough sleeping within a given area, especially in rural areas as rough sleeping would generally be less visible were it to be an issue. The Vale of Glamorgan Council is however committed to working with partners to link rough sleepers if identified with the services that can help them find a way off the streets and into settled accommodation. However, in times of extreme cold weather, a rough sleeper would be particularly vulnerable to harm and even death. For this reason the Council has introduced a Cold Weather Protocol in order to ensure that any rough sleeper has the opportunity to have access to appropriate support and assistance if it is believed that they are at risk during severe cold weather.

There is also increasing recognition and corporate support to provide effective housing options for non-statutory homeless people, and the Council has implemented a range of measures to improve the services it can offer to these clients. These include a frontline comprehensive housing advice service, including direct help where necessary to mediate, negotiate stays etc. and the provision of bonds and rent in advance to help secure privately rented accommodation.

Despite our achievements, we have in the last year seen an increase in homelessness acceptances, mostly due to a changing economic climate and new duties placed on the local authority under the new Housing (Wales) Act 2014.

The transition from the old legislative framework of the Housing Act 1996 into the Housing (Wales) Act 2014 led to the need to make fundamental changes to the Council's service delivery. Although prevention work was being undertaken prior to the April 2015 implementation date, formalising these processes in order to comply with the Act and the associated legal duties led to administrative challenges.

The aim of the current legislation is to focus more intensely on prevention rather than cure. The front loading of advice and support is targeted at saving tenancies to a much greater degree. Although this process allows for more pro-active preventative methods, the benefits of this process are offset, somewhat, by the increased administrative burden placed on staff due to the more complex and layered structure of the various duties and decisions required.

Examples of the changes required included the introduction of hourly appointment slots, in order to allow time to collect the additional information required under the Housing (Wales) Act 2014 and to make the presentation process a more client focussed experience.

The Service has made significant progress over the past 3 years. Collaborative working has become embedded in the Service allowing access to specialist advice/support offered by partner agencies. A Shelter Cymru advice worker was seconded to the team to assist with the transition period. In addition, the Housing Solutions Team has continued to work very closely with the Supporting People Team to identify and develop complementary services to assist clients more effectively. The homelessness assessment process has been enhanced by the introduction of support workers onsite from both Gwalia and Gofal. These workers assist clients in crisis, at the time of presentation and have proved an invaluable tool in preventing homelessness and assisting clients to main their accommodation.

All of this work has brought additional confidence to the Team and increased their ability to manage potential legislative changes more effectively and to adapt to the challenges ahead.

The graph below highlights the progression of the service over the past 3 years in its ability to prevent people becoming homeless under a Section 66 duty and to effectively relieve homelessness where a Section 73 duty is owed.

Graph 4 – Percentage of homeless applicants for which homelessness was prevented since the introduction of the Housing (Wales) Act 2014

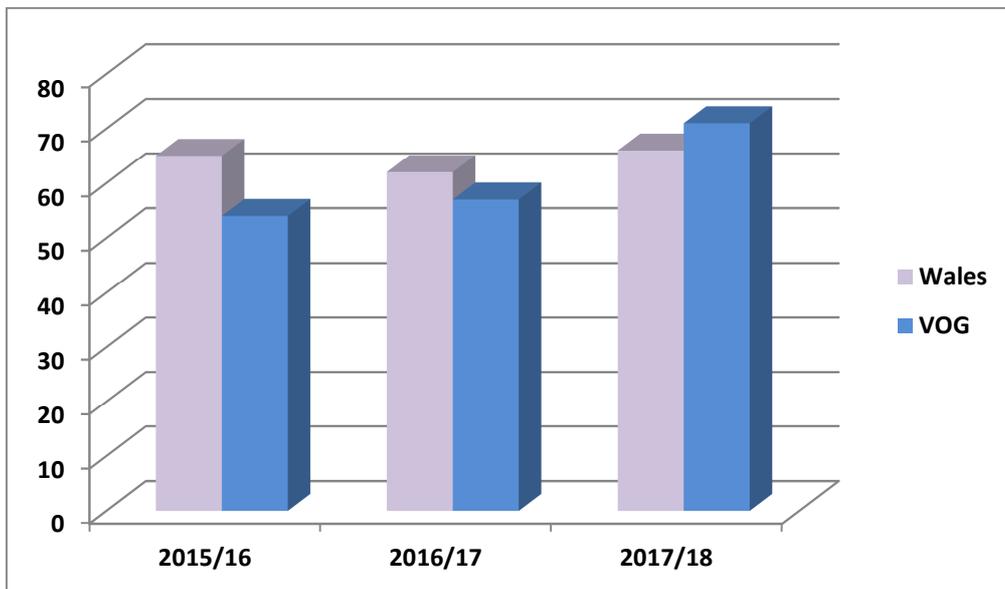

These figures are against a backdrop of rising demand for services across Wales. Over the past 3 years since the introduction of the Act, duties awarded at Section 66 stage (threatened with homelessness within 56 days) have risen nationally by 27% and by 31% in the Vale of Glamorgan. Where service users have presented as homeless and been awarded a Section 73 duty, the rise has been even more dramatic; with an increase of 64% across Wales and 61% in the Vale of Glamorgan.

The next graph shows how the Vale of Glamorgan has performed in comparison to the all Wales national average in its homelessness prevention duties under Section 66 of the Act, which shows a year on year improvement.

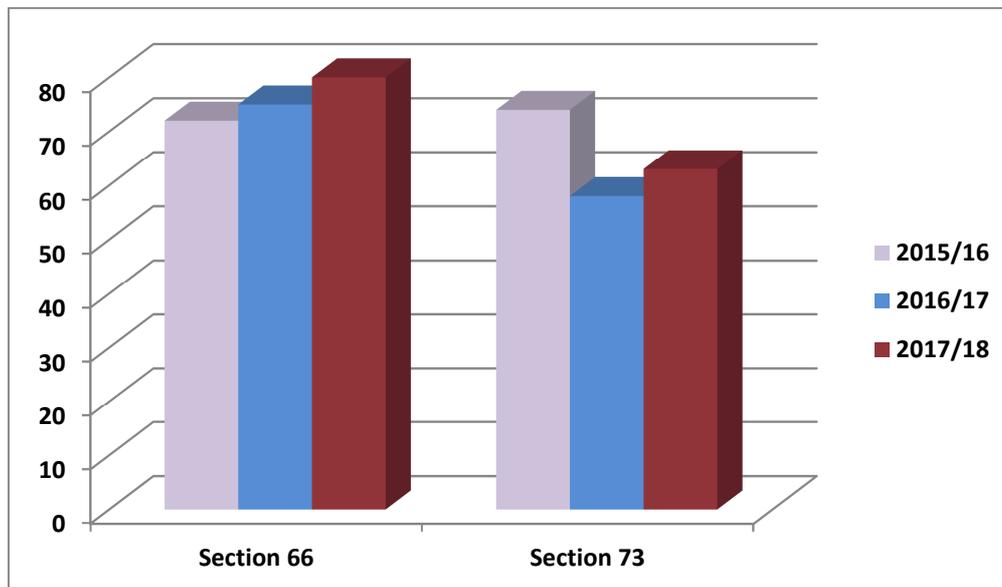

Graph 5 - Percentage of homeless applicants for which homelessness was prevented compared to the all Wales national average

The following graph shows the percentage of cases that the Housing Solutions Team has prevented from becoming homeless following presentations under Section 66 and Section 73 of the Act. The percentage varies from that of the chart above as certain categories have been removed to show only the cases where there was scope to intervene. In order to establish this figure applicants that refused assistance, withdrew their application or refused to engage with the Service have been removed from the number of unsuccessful preventions in order to show a more accurate picture of the prevention work carried out in the Vale of Glamorgan.

Graph 6 – Percentage of homeless applicants for which homelessness was prevented, excluding cases in which the Housing Solutions Team were unable to intervene

For a further breakdown of statistics, both nationally and by Authority, visit <https://statswales.gov.wales>

The achievements and challenges since the implementation of the Housing (Wales) Act 2014 have clearly shown how the service has moved forward and the benefits of adopting an early intervention approach.

5. Consultation & Review Process

The consultation process to inform and develop this Strategy commenced with a service user review survey, followed by a SWOT (strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, threats) analysis of the current homelessness process. The Council held a consultation event in June 2018, which was attended by over fifty stakeholders and partners; including Members to gather this information. The attendees represented a broad range of service users which included young homeless people, single homeless households and families with young children, ex-offenders, clients with dependency issues, mental health issues and learning difficulties.

Discussions took place on the effectiveness of the Council's existing approaches to homelessness and highlighted gaps in provision and emerging priorities. The feedback received was collated and along with the statistical data evidence and the peer review results which were conducted by an external agency in order to encourage service users to speak freely about their experience of the service was used to determine key priorities for inclusion in the action plan.

The consultation event was held in June 2018 and attended by approximately 50 delegates.

Information on the consultation event, service user survey and statistical evidence can be found in the Consultation and Review of Homelessness Report available on the Council's website at: (link to be added once draft approved)

6. The Priorities

There are considerable challenges for the Council in tackling homelessness. It is recognised that anyone can become homeless at any time and that nationally the groups who are most at risk of homelessness include young people leaving the care of a local authority, those leaving prison, people suffering from domestic abuse, those with mental health problems, clients with substance misuse issues, those from troubled families, people on a low income and those who are in debt. There is a strong correlation between homelessness and social exclusion and there is increasing pressures on household incomes in the current economic climate.

One of the major challenges is the demand for affordable housing in the Vale of Glamorgan which greatly outstrips supply; as well as high housing costs, for rent or purchase. The Council is committed to addressing housing supply issues; including tackling empty homes and encouraging those who are under-occupying their homes to downsize. The Council also recognises the value of the private rented sector in tackling homelessness issues and continues to invest I funding in a Private Rented Procurement Team.

Key priorities include:

- Early intervention/ prevention in order to encourage better, more targeted, prevention work to reduce the number of households experiencing the trauma of homelessness.
- Improved access to services/ information for the service user to assist them to address the causes of homelessness and to make informed decisions on the correct solution to their housing problem.
- Ensuring suitable accommodation and support is available by making more effective use of the private rented sector, and clients are referred to Supporting People Services.
- Ensuring service users are provided with a client centered and holistic service.
- Improving the quality of advice for all households threatened with homelessness along with the required, advice and information.

What have we done to tackle these challenges?

The Vale of Glamorgan Council has recognised that in order to meet the needs of vulnerable households with complex issues, supported housing needs to be utilised in the most effective way for clients experiencing or at risk of homelessness. In order to achieve this, a single point of access has been introduced for all Supporting People funded Services to ensure that the most vulnerable clients are prioritised. Two independent support workers funded by the Supporting People Programme Grant now work within the Housing Solutions Service in order to support clients immediately at the point of presentation. One is a specialist mental health worker who is able to provide specialist advice to the Team and works with the very vulnerable clients who present with mental health issues.

7. Links to other Strategies and related Policies

In addition to the Local Housing Strategy 2015 – 2020, the Homelessness Prevention Plan should be considered in the context of a range of other strategies and policies:

Community Strategy 2011 – 2021	Supporting People Commissioning Plan 2017 - 2020	Local Market Housing Assessment 2018 – 2023	Corporate Plan 2016 – 2020

8. Resources

Homelessness Grant Funding Streams

In addition to the corporate general fund investment in the Housing Solutions Service, the in-year Homelessness Grant funding for 2017/18 from Welsh Government was £110,000 and the Vale of Glamorgan Council has made a clear commitment to ring fence this funding to spend on preventing homelessness for the life of the grant. In 2017/18, the grant funded a mental health link worker to assist with assessments of homeless clients with mental health issues; a Private Sector Lettings Officer and a young person's early intervention project.

Partners also provide services for homeless people and those at risk of homelessness, which brings additional resources into the Service including housing related support funded by the Supporting People Programme Grant.

With less public resources generally available, we know we need to continue to redesign our services around the needs of our clients and work smarter with partner organisations which is reflected in the action plan which accompanies this Strategy. We will continue to target funding when available to projects that meet our strategic priorities and review the outcomes achieved to ensure on-going provision meets the strategic aims of the Council.

9. Monitoring and Review

This Strategy is for the period 2018 to 2022; but it will be a working document which is responsive to change and therefore monitored and reviewed annually. This will ensure the actions and strategic aims remain relevant and encompass best practice in the homelessness and housing advice sector.

The Council will continue to measure the effectiveness of our homelessness prevention processes through a number of means, including through ongoing consultation with our partners and satisfaction surveys with clients. The Council will also ensure the annual service plan for the housing options/private rented sector team align themselves to the more detailed actions required as a direct result of the consultation, peer review and statistical analysis of the service.

10. Publication

A copy of this Strategy is available on the Council's website and is available on request at the Council's offices. A paper copy can also be provided upon request.
